Know Your Net Worth

Net worth is directly related to financial wellness. It indicates where you spend too much money by analyzing what personal assets and liabilities say about your finances.

If you're unsure what your net worth is or how it impacts financial health, let the Banzai Coach help you figure it out.

The Banzai Coach is like a conversation with a virtual financial mentor. Knowing individual net worth will help you recognize good and bad financial habits. This Coach session helps you understand and calculate your net worth.

The Coach figures out your net worth based on a calculation of current assets and liabilities.
